Comments: I am concerned about this proposal because it eradicates certain pedestrian trails, while adding several roads for vehicle use. There is much confusion about what exactly will happen in this forest in the name of restoration.

It would be in the best interests of everyone if the public comment period could be extended, due to the holidays and the increasingly treacherous political climate.

I only found out about this today -- on the last day of commenting. I wonder how many others would comment if they knew about it.
