Comments: I have concerns with the Foothills Project as I understand it. If this plan is accepted, does it grant the CONF authority to implement all the prescriptions outlined in the document without further input from the public? If so then I am against it. If approval of this plan means the CONF can log, burn, spray, close campgrounds, etc on thousands of acres without further oversight than this document should not be approved. I believe many worthy USFS projects are delayed because of too many administrative procedures. Focus on streamlining your procedures if necessary. However, if the acceptance of the Foothills Project means permission to do whatever the CONF wants to do in the forest then I cannot support that. This Foothills document should be a conceptual document from which specific projects are identified and public approval is sought before acting.
