Comments: Under the circumstances of the world and weather conditions we face today, political disorientation in turmoil,question little if any moral direction by governments around the world including ours, and in consideration of environmental catastrophes perpetrated by our apparently inexorable quest for oil and natural gas, I believe the risks too high. The potential for sacrifice of environmental flora and fauna because of overzealous support 4 things people don't want or need in this day and age I oppose Jordan cove and other environmental hazards like it about this country and others as well.
