Good morning. I'm sure you are getting an overwhelming amount of emails and I'm sorry for that. I am sending one just to give my opinion as well.... God created the heavens and the earth you all should take time and read the first book of the bible it will give you all some great insite. The forest does not need man to manage it. It manages it self. That's how it's been from the begining and it will be that way till the end. You all do a great job of maintaining trails and giving people access to this beautiful land but stripping the land sounds like a money racket instead of conservation. I personally own land and back up to forest service and would hate to have it effect my business and privacy. I intentionally bought land surrounded by national forest and cherish it dearly. I also feel like it would bring my land value down. So my vote would be no.

Have a great day.
