Subject: Fracking at Lake Conroe and Sam Houston National Forest
Mr. Potts: I am a resident of Corinthian Point two blocks from Lake Conroe. I am totally against any fracking activity at or near the lake or in Sam Houston National Forest. I have seen first hand the devastating effects of fracking when I worked at a company in Sayre, Pennsylvania. What was once a pristine skiing area and nice small town was destroyed by fracking. There was smoke coming out of the ground and many of the homes had to be abandoned. The plant I worked at was shut down. This is NOT an environmentally friendly process by any means. That fact that Lake Conroe - which supplies water to Houston - could become contaminated is not worth the risk to the health of the residents. I am not savvy enough to understand how oil companies can get leases in a national forest - which I assumed to be protected land; but to allow fracking in a National Forest should be illegal. If you are a decent human being with any conscience or concern for the environment, you will not move forward with this project. Sincerely, Linda M. Delaney
