Access to the land is one of the greatest values that the Northwest (Idaho in particular) has to offer. In my lifetime, access to areas such as the Great Burn have been limited. This is a mistake and a mismanagement of our forests and backcountry. I recreate in this area in the summer and fall, mostly fishing, hunting and dirt biking. I would welcome the opportunity to recreate in this area in the winter and spring with a snowmobile. I believe that this area can be managed so that all user groups can be included and keep the areas rugged nature intact.
