Comments: I support the creation of the Redstone to McClure Pass Trail. This is a critical connection for the eventual development of a Carbondale to Crested Butte trail. It will add additional mileage to the the existing Raggeds Trail. Additionally, this segment will be a great option for trail users on its own. It will provide an opportunity for residents of Redstone and surrounding areas to recreate and exercise by foot, bike or horse without driving. And also may attract destination users from outside the area that could contribute to the local economy. Please build this trail. I look forward to riding it with my friends, family, and children.
