Comments: I personally am appalled at the suggestion of basically wiping out 3/4 of the established Heber Herd. These intelligent gentle creatures represent the history of our great state of Arizona quilt square making up the fabric of this country. They are irreplaceable national treasures and the suggestion that we "cull the herd" begs the question of what will become of the remaining healthy horses? Will they be auctioned to the highest bidder and shipped for slaughter? I own horse property in Apache Junction and offer to take 5 horses to save them from a worse fate. They need our help. Please consider alternatives to extermination. Sincerely Barbara
