Comments: I am writing in defense of these horses. They should not have to die because of the monetary interests of ranchers. We are in a crisis state with the earth and ranching is not only absolutely wrong because no individual is an object for the use of humans, but it is devastating to the planet. These horses are wild and I support practices similar to that of Trap Neuter Return for community cats. None of them should have to die for profits of exploiters. That's who is killing them and getting away with it. Decisions in favor of monetary gain are almost never the right ones for the natural earth.
