

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 2/22/2020 12:35:05 AM

First name: Michael

Last name: Knox

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Science has stated that wild horses are good for ecosystems, as well as helping to prevent forest fires. I suggest that the plan take into consideration the advice of the scientific community.

The number of wild horses that is determined to be sustainable must also rely on science and a confirmed population count is necessary.

There are too many horses held in expensive government pens as it is now. Rounding up wild horses and stockpiling them is not management.