Comments: I think it is a horrific plan to confine nature's creatures, Gods creation to a limited free space. Horses are majestic animals that have survived in the wild peacefully. Humans have long admired, tamed and lived with these living beings.

The amount of horses compared to the , unconfined, land they currently roam is minuscule in the grand scheme. Your plan is cruel, inhumane, and quite frankly out of what should be any human beings scope. They are wild, free creatures that should remain wild & free. Don't think their heard, don't limit their place on earth. One of the most beautiful sights while hiking and walking trails in this state is seeing a large group of these horses in the environment. Let them be!
