Comments: I have family in the Heber area. I visit often and hope to retire there. The wild horses are magnificent.

They are part of the area's heritage. The recent killings disturb the majority of the community greatly.

For the forest service to not only leave that criminal activity unsolved but to fold to the pressure of interests outside our state is even more disturbing. It is clear what is happening yet the service pretends it's for the benefit of the land or the residents. It's ALL about money. Heard of cattle do the same if not more damage yet nobody cares because grazing cattle means bug money.

This plan is shameful! And expelling the one woman from the committee who actually was qualified is absolutely disgusting!

Save the horses. Cull the Forest Service.
