Comments: I love visiting these areas and love to see the horses. People stand in awe watching the wild horses, trying to capture the perfect picture. The fact that very few horses are allowed there is ridiculous given the number of cattle that are also allowed on public lands. There are more cattle grazing and causing a lot more destruction than the few wild horses! I guess I don't understand why wild horses are the issue. Livestock is far more destructive considering there are way more cattle on this land. Actually, it really upsets me that private livestock is allowed on this land! Do the right thing. Leave the wild horses alone!!
