Comments: Please try and understand these wild horses represent the still beautiful wild Arizona. They have more rights to be here than the rest of us. Sometimes to keep state beautiful, which is a challenge nowadays. You have to let things be in their natural way. There's plenty of room for these horses. People will come from all over to see them. Bringing their money to Arizona to spend. This is what makes Arizona special. Sometimes to keep a state beautiful, which is a challenge nowadays. you have to let things be in their natural state. there's plenty of room for these horses. I hope you will reconsider. I grew up in the city, not forests or beautiful parks. No nature. I was surrounded by concrete in stores. I moved here from Illinois. Cuz I wanted to live in a state, that realized that nature in its natural form. Is breathtaking. Trust me. That's what makes Arizona great. Don't lose sight of the importance of that.
