

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 2/28/2020 11:50:52 PM

First name: Linda

Last name: Anon

Organization:

Title:

Comments: There are 43,000 square miles of land but only 24 square miles are available to be used by wild horses? Something is wrong with this plan. These horses, through their lineage, are part of America's history. To save as few as 50 is a travesty and those in charge should be ashamed of themselves. Why should cattle grazing land be more accessible than horse grazing land? Please listen to the public's opinion, investigate their concerns and incorporate their suggestions