

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/4/2020 3:28:10 AM

First name: Connie

Last name: Hart

Organization:

Title:

Comments: You are only pretending to care anything at all about these horses. These horses are healthy and do not harm the environment. Only the cattle harm the environment. If population needs to be controlled, do so with safe birth control methods. Cannot be any more expensive than all you helicopter roundups, keeping them in corrals all their lives, and shipping them to Mexico for slaughter, and all your extensive meetings with cattlemen and lobbying meetings etc, etc. You have 4,300 square miles of land and you want to keep the horses on 21 square miles, why? Is that fair? Is the rest for cattle, mining, or other uses for the wealthy? The people of this country have told their government that they want these horses to be protected and this government continues to ignore the people. I hope we get a new government who will listen to the people.