

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/6/2020 5:34:22 PM

First name: Duane

Last name: Gibson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: It is very sad and frustrating that animals and plants of the earth are treated as worthless. This is wrong! These horses are at human mercy which is usually not very nice. They deserve to have as much space as possible to live and survive Those who think they don't deserve to be there are arrogant and thoughtless in caring about habitats that are easily removed and thus survival limited Enough ego! Think about all the living creatures on our planet and how much better all would be if humans were not here! We are here so why don't we care about what is around us and treat all with respect. WE cannot even treat our own kind with such often. I am honored that I was born to actually care about all creatures of the earth and for all people no matter their color, ethnicity or religion and preference as long as we are good honest caring.