Comments: I am a sportsman and outdoors man. I have noticed the feral horses, while they are beautiful, they have become a nuisance. They destroy habitat for wildlife and cattle. I have confronted horses while hiking and hunting. One horse turned towards me and started charging me. They are not only a nuisance but a danger. These horses were released by individuals and are now taking over our forests. They are not much different than cats turned out or left in neighborhoods. Please choose to remove them so we can continue having beautiful forests and ranchers and others can have horses and people that want to see horses can see them in other venues. They are not wild horses. They are domestic horses that have been turned out by owners that no longer wanted them. Please remove them.
