

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/10/2020 7:00:00 AM

First name: Don

Last name: Anderson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: THE OREGONIAN: LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Invasive Species Man

Florida, according to PBS, is facing a big problem with large snakes and other reptiles in their water tributaries, and swamps (Trump) due to human negligence. These reptiles started out as pets and are encroaching on other animal life and creatures to the point of extinction! On another front, humans are building homes and factories on land that was once animal and bird habitat. Humans do not understand the dynamics or ignore their responsibility and stewardship towards animal and bird displacement and survival! Humans exploit and control nature's habitat to suit their own selfish monetary needs without regard to natural selection, and are short-sighted idiots when it comes to conservation. If this isn't troubling enough, now we have hikers and backpackers going out into our wilderness and loving it to death to the point that federal agencies have to limit by permit how many people can be admitted at any given time entry into these beautiful, pristine environments! Is there no end to human stupidity? Why should some government agencies have to remind people of this mindless behavior? Have humans lost all sense of purpose? If so, STOP TEH WORLD I WANT TO GET OFF WHILE THE REST OF YOU WAIT FOR THE NEXT ASTEROID TO STRIKE.

Just read the article about despoiling Oregon caves. This is despicable. As explained in the above article. Keep up the good reporting work-pertaining to the savage homo sapiens who have little or no regard for our beautiful scenic environment and mother earth!

By the way I am proudly an asexual, anarcist misanthrope!