Comments: I enjoyed Mission Ridge for the first time last December. My husband and I had a blast and believe it is a wonderful place. As is. Please get with the times. The remaining wild places on Earth are so diminished and there are more than enough recreational venues for every interest. Stop and breathe for a moment and really look around. Look up at the sky. Don't you miss clear blue Eastern Washington skies. Haven't you noticed the poisonous climate engineered clouds dimming us on a daily basis. Haven't you noticed the butchered trees, the diminished wildlife, the insane population? Wenatchee streets feeling like Seattle? Please stop sleep walking and pretending we live in times of continued opportunity. The days of "follow the money" are done. We need now to be vigilant and creative. Destroying more trees, more wild habitat and putting more of a strain on our environment, which hello! is all of our homes, is beyond absurd. Also, are you living in a bubble I am unaware of? With the present condition of the World and Covid19, these are not the times to be so demented and dreaming of expansion and money! These are times to create and save wild habitat, fight against climate engineering and 5G, help your family and neighbors. Do something to leave a healthy legacy behind, not a more destroyed one.
