Comments: Mission Ridge is a beloved ski/snowboard area for me and my family. We have been coming there for many years from Seattle. We often rent an AirB&B or stay in a motel nearby to make less driving to/from Seattle.

One of the things we appreciate most about it is how undeveloped it is, how truly "Washington" Mission Ridge is. While we often wish there were updated chair lifts on some runs, we very much oppose the idea of expansion to the resort. We understand that with global warming it is becoming more challenging for ski resorts to run a profitable business. Many resorts are looking to expansion as a way to address this (make it more appealing/accessible to more people) when that is the exact opposite of what is really needed.

We oppose the idea of expansion and strongly urge the resort to find other ways to partner with the community to make the resort more accessible and provide the conveniences to its customers.

Thank you for chance to share perspectives.
