Comments: Leave Mission Ridge as is. I've been skiing there since 1972. It's appeal is that it's not a Vail or Crystal Mountain. I've skied at those resorts and all over the western United States and we need more ski areas like Mission Ridge is now - not a mega ski resort. We don't need a big resort with lodging that causes congestion on the mountain, traffic and the environmental degradation associated with it. That's why I don't ski at Crystal Mountain any longer even though is closer in distance to where I live than Mission is.
