Comments: Please do not, as part of the Forest Revision Plan, allow snowmobiling in the area known as the Great Burn or shrink the boundaries of the protected area to allow logging and road building.

The Great Burn has been recommended for wilderness protection. It is home to threatened, endangered and vulnerable wildlife. It is unique in that it serves to connect segments of undisturbed habitat into a cohesive ecosystem.

Disruption of the Great Burn would cause irreparable harm to migration routes of threatened species such as wolves and a grizzly bear.
