Comments: I support multiple use in our forests. Not only do we need the available products to fuel our nation but the forest itself needs the care given by wise use. Gifford Pinchot, the first director of the Forest Service stated that "Conservation is the wisest use of our natural resources for the most benefit for the longest time!" A resource not used wisely is not only wasteful but is also detrimental to the longevity of the resource. All life on the planet, plants and animals need careful nurturing, pruning and use to remain viable

Thank you
