Comments: Collaborative information hoodoo (great burn area)

To whom it concerns,

I'm very concerned that great burn area will remain closed due to pressure from environmental groups and big money Washington.

This has been an on going issue for a lot of years with no research to back claims of goat harassment by snowmobiles or any other animal. Heck they do park tours in Yellowstone with snow machines.

I'm a father of 5 and I do speak for all of my family when I say that there must be common ground implemented here.

As far as the 4 or 5 options on the perimeter of the great burn options:

I'm not looking for all of it to become open once again, but I don't want to see it all remain closed either.

Thanks,

Jim Hayden
