Comments: The options available are not realistic unless portions of each are available to make up the final decision.

That said I am in favor of any options that include multiple uses and reductions in elitist options that do not allow winter recreational opportunities. The economic impact to the communities on the Montana side are huge when you take into account the loss of winter motorized recreation. It has been proven over and over that winter motorized use has a very minimal impact on animals and ecology.

I am not in favor of dividing up the area into segments for various activities this only concentrates uses and does not allow for diversity of use and reduced impact.

Multiple use is inclusive, wilderness is exclusive. Winter motorized recreation is important to the economy and the health of communities.
