Comments: Forest Plan Revision

Are you kidding me? 6% of forest service land is wilderness which means 94% is open to motorized travel. And you want to shrink the wilderness even more. Why is it necessary for snowmobiles or any other motorized travel to go in there. Can't you leave a little or the wildlife and those of us who prefer a quieter form of recreation? Not only should the wilderness characteristics of the Great Burn be maintained but it sounds like you need to do alot better job of enforcing the existing rules. I strongly support keeping the snomobiles out of the Great Burn and leaving the boundaries as they are. Thank you

Sincerely,
Michael Sullivan
