Comments: Based on the published information, this appears to be a large expansion of skiable terrain at Lutsen Mountains which would result in a large increase in winter visitors to the area. As we have seen during the recent pandemic, there are huge concerns about Lake and Cook county having the resources and infrastructure to deal with the current number of visitors, let alone a large increase. As a frequent winter visitor to this area (and downhill skier at Lutsen Mountains) I believe a smaller expansion would be have much less detrimental impact on the surrounding area.
