Comments: Hello,

I am a Colorado resident and have been an avid skier my whole life. I often purchase annual Keystone ski passes due to the ski area being perfect for both beginners and experts. I am excited for the Keystone Terrain Expansion project in Bergman Bowl because of all of the benefits that comes with it. I often ski with many family members and friends and we all love the idea of being able to have more space to help spread skiers across a larger area of terrain. This would help to increase the movement throughout the resort. For people who often ski at Keystone, many know that there are areas on the mountain that can feel somewhat cramped and too close for comfort. This expansion would change this for the better. Not only will the expansion make the flow better on the mountain, but it would also allow people to have access to amazing, high alpine skiing that is not currently reachable to most.

I am very excited to see the plans for Keystone's terrain expansion, I know my friends, family, as well as myself will greatly benefit from it!
