Comments: Riders! We have a great chance to help improve an already great riding area, Huckleberry Flats, on the Willamette National Forest outside of Oakridge, Oregon. All you have to do is follow the link, then enter your information and a short message, near the bottom.

Here's what's on the table: A plan has been completed to significantly expand the staging and camping areas, and to add MORE SINGLE TRACK TRAIL. The great land manager and the outstanding volunteers that make the magic happen at Huckleberry Flats need your supportive comments to pour in, in order to close the deal.

I strongly support the construction project alternative and oppose the "do nothing" alternative. My family and I grew up camping and doing ohv and have great memories from it. I also support the Forest Plan changes needed to allow this expansion.
