Comments: The highest and best use of the Homestake Valley is as a recreation, camping, fishing and nature destination. This Valley offers Coloradans and citizens of the US an easy and intimate glimpse into the mountains. Multiple hiking trails and isolated lakes allow people whom seldom get the chance to connect with nature. A reservoir here would destroy a valuable asset. Survey for the reservoir should not go forward because the best value of this Valley continues to be as a natural setting/ destination asset.
