Comments: DO NOT LOG NORTH FOLK NOOKSACK! Look at history, logging at such a scale is what caused the dust bowl, and environmental damage that still hasn't even begun to heal. The environment is far more important than money or some building material. At this point in time we have so many warehouses full of lumber, and so many empty homes and buildings that are just sitting vacant for years. if you have to ravage something do something with the materials that already exist! It saddens me deeply that my children will never see an old growth forest in their life time and it saddens me further that nature can't thrive and exist all because of greedy logging. There is already proof that Hemp crops can produce enough fiber to create lumber that is stronger than oak and you can get the same amount of material from a season of hemp as you can from 40 years of tree growth and all the while protecting forests and helping scrub carbon from the air to boot.
