

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 6/12/2020 2:39:47 PM

First name: Vikki

Last name: Jackson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The proposed level of harvest is not sustainable and combined with harvest on private lands results in long term and permanent ecological shifts when combined with modeled (and currently experienced) climate change in this region. This puts the community at risk from water deficits affecting the overall economy of our region as well as increased fire risk. Harvest is possible, but only in small units avoiding old growth forest areas which cannot be replaced.