Comments: I have lived in Bellingham, WA for my whole life now, and have spent countless hours exploring the North Fork of the Nooksack River and it's surrounding counterparts near Mt. Baker. This area in the Pacific Northwest holds such a special place in everyone's hearts, especially being the outdoorsy town we are here in Bellingham. I fully believe that many residents would be devastated to see such a colossal chunk of our local forests and backyards go. It is my greatest wishes that the Trump administration holds back and doesn't take away these sacred lands to extract natural resources.
