Comments: To Whom it May Concern:

My family moved to the Northwest when I was a sophomore in highschool. I was immediately blown away by all of the amazing natural beauty of the forest lands. The fact that the trails were so well kept and there were always trail maps available made it easy for me to gain a love of the outdoors. If the forest lands we have aren't protected and preserved the children and people who come here from all over the world will miss out on something that is getting rarer and rarer to find. Please think of all we have to lose.

Thank you,

Tamsin Salas
