Comments: My only disapproval with the project is with the taking of 500 acres of wilderness area. It does not matter what 500 acres, or even if 500 more were added. The shrinking of wilderness areas, parks, and public land for the needs of few should be out right criminal. Trying to build off an unsustainable society, and broken ways is just as bad. We need to assess and look at new ways to meet the needs of our changing world.

Diminishing protected lands, and boring tunnels is not the way to a brighter future. It just ruins the land for all.
