Comments: In these unprecedented times, any outdoor project that will allow people to exercise and enjoy the incredible natural resource that our National Forests provide, is a project that should be done. This trail will link a parking area with existing trails, and create access to trails that will be used by beginner and intermediate riders. This location is easily accessed and at the edge of the forest so as not to create more traffic in the interior of the forest. Mountain biking provides an economic boost to our area, and has tremendous room for growth. It is a sport that is open to all ages, any gender, and people of any background.
