Comments: I've ridden Narrowback a few times and really enjoyed it. I live about 30 minutes away and have always found there was a lack of trails for the beginner to intermediate rider to hone their skills on. Many trips to the area found plenty of trails to chose from, but they were WAY over my skill (and fitness) levels. It left me not wanting to come back. When I heard that you were exploring other trail options, I had to speak up. I fully support the NPS taking steps to get more people outside, on their bike or by foot, and enjoying the great outdoors.
