Comments: The CG Forest Plan has to include the following:

Grizzly bears need access to additional wild habitat to ensure their long-term survival. Connectivity between northern Montana and the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem must be assured to increase much-needed genetic diversity, which is essential to protection of wild grizzlies.

The Crazy Mountains need additional backcountry areas where motorized vehicles & any mechanized uses are prohibited. Mechanized uses must not be allowed in any currently roadless parts of the Crazy Mountains.

The proposed Gallatin Crest Wilderness Area is barely half of the Hyalite Porcupine Buffalo Horn Wilderness Study Area. The entire wilderness study area needs to be recommended for wilderness designation.

It's now or never, so wild country must be protected before it's irreparably degraded.
