Comments: While a coster would bring more business to the area, a better use of the land would be to develop the trails for mountain biking. Places like Angel Fire have down hill mountain bike trails that use the existing lift systems to haul bikes and riders up to the top of the mountain. Sandia already has an existing lift system in place, however it was broken several years ago and not fixed. By fixing and using the existing lift this would reduce the environmental impact to the mountain. In addition, cyclists will ride in colder conditions than just seasonal roller coaster riders allowing revenues to occur in all but the snow covered months on the mountain.
