Comments: Over the past two years I have come to cherish Idaho and view it as one of America's purest hidden gems. It's a state of incomparable beauty. A key ingredient in that beauty is it's pristine rivers. Simply put and not hard to see, the Stibnite Gold Project will utterly decimate the South Fork Salmon River. Humans have already done irreparable damage to America's water ways and we cannot allow greed and human desire to prevail over the River and it's endangered inhabitants. It's unfathomable to allow this to project to proceed as it will strip Idaho and America's pride, destroying an ecosystem that makes Idaho unique.
