Comments: Protecting critical habitat in times of climate change is more important than ever. We need to be making positive change for our future, so that our children and their children can enjoy the lands that came before all of us. We have been the amazing gift of lands to explore and cherish, animals to observe and learn from- and we threaten this everyday with our current actions. We need to be fighting for change which protects that gift and stopping behavior which endangers it- not adding more harmful activities to our regime. Stop this gold mine, and let us move towards alternatives for the future
