

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/23/2020 3:51:50 PM

First name: Susan

Last name: Rodriguez

Organization:

Title:

Comments: To Whom It May Concern,

Most of us human beings do not generally know how to co-exist with nature. Allowing planes and gas powered vehicles into forests is not only a bad idea, but dangerous and needless. Animals have less and less places to live. Living is hard when prey is constantly being terrified by noise and human interruption. We are like a loud and nasty plague on this earth. Since we won't stop procreating, we need to set boundaries as to how much spread we allow. I say, leave our forests to those on foot. Keep planes and machines out!! Allow nature to be itself, uninterrupted by man!