Comments: I object to e bikes in any national park or forest. They and their riders present a risk to those who are hiking. As well, those of us who seek time in the wilderness do so to experience peace and tranquility. The e bikes seriously threaten both. Also, the space on the trails where I hike do not allow for bikes to safely pass/meet a hiker. Maybe allowing them on old logging roads would be safe. So NO. Keep the trails free for the hikers.
