Comments: I have birded and visited South Cave Creek in the Chiracahuas since 1970. That's 50 years of use by me. I am intimately familiar with all areas of the Chiracahua Mountains having hiked them during this time, and most of the other mountains in Southeast Arizona.

The proposal as made, # 1, is to be avoided. The development and its subsequent use inserts itself directly into a very sensitive natural area. NO development should ever take place here. I vote NO.

Having said that, the development as proposed is worthy, but not at this site. I would suggest that you place this development out of the canyon, away from Cave Creek. Perhaps in a quiet area to the north along existing roadways near Paradise?
