Comments: I support opening up bike trails to e bikes. I am an ebike owner.

If speed is a problem, post speed limits. Regular bicycles can get to high speeds when going downhill, and most ebikes cannot speed as much as folks think they can, going up a hill. Speed limits for all bikes makes sense if speed is a problem.

Ebikes are not noisy. They are as quiet as the free wheel noise of a regular bike. They have the same foot print, they affect the land the same.

In fact, other than the pedal assist, an ebike IS a regular bicycle. I suggest that the team working on this go out and rent a few to experience what an ebike can do.

What IS the issue, is the "I don't want any more users out on MY trails."

I am in favor of treating ebikes as regular bicycles.
