Comments: The federal government has mandated that e-bikes are regulated by the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) and fall under the same guidelines as human-powered bicycles. ... The bottom line is the federal government classifies e-bikes as bicycles and not as a "motor vehicle", despite the presence of a motor. Jul 7, 2019 How much plainer can it get? The federal government classifies a ebike as a non motorized vehicle and they are in the same category as a regular bicycle. Doesn't the forest service fall under the federal government?
