Comments: We are loving our public lands to death. Trash, illegal fires, and erosion are all increasing everywhere people can get easily. Allowing e-bikes more access will open more places to more people who will cause more damage. I would like to see more wilderness and fewer easily accessed places. Just like 4WDs, motor bikes and ATVs, there are some places that are already ruined that they can continue to destroy, but lets save some of the other places for those who like peace, quiet, and unmolested landscapes. Lastly, although e-bikes are relatively quiet (compared to gas engines) they still produce a significant disturbance to wildlife. More e-bikes means fewer healthy animals on the land.
