Comments: I am a disabled combat veteran. My injuries affect my lower legs, knees and my back. I am unable to run or hike for long distances effectively keeping me out of some of my favorite places in this country.

I do not believe my impact on the land while utilizing a class one e-bike would be any more destructive than as if I was on horse back or a shuttled downhill mountain bike run.

In the case of myself and many others like myself at an age of 58 years old I think a e-bike would enable me to enjoy a healthy relationship with nature on our public lands.

As with any other activity on public lands responsible behavior will be a key to success.
