

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/2/2020 1:16:14 PM

First name: Clayton

Last name: Dewberry

Organization:

Title:

Comments: eBikes that do not have a throttle - must be peddled - should be considered just as a regular bike. It gives people access to areas that normally wouldn't and those bikes certainly can coexist with other bikes, hikers, and equestrians.

Motorcycles, and eBikes that have a throttle and do not require peddling - should remain banned. I don't own an eBike but know many 60 and 70 year olds that do and they love that they have assistance going up hills that they would otherwise miss out on. When I get in my 70s I hope to ride an eBike myself. Thank you.